The Infinite Monday

"You wake up in your bed."

You wish you were dead. In fact, you should have been dead. You committed Suicide lots of times before. But no, there is no after-life for you, only the repeat of the same day.

Not only you hate your never-ending day, but also yourself.

You have an obligation to go to work. You hate your job and small cubicle in the cold office.

Maybe you do something crazy today and spend the day at home? Or kill yourself?

[[Start your day->Waking up]]

Waking up

You are in your bedroom. It is a rainy morning. There is a wooden table near your bed.

On the table, there are your alarm clock and a photograph of you with you ex-wife.

There is a drawer beneath the table.

Options:

[[1.(Look out the window)->Look out the window]]

[[2.(Look at the alarm clock)->Look at the alarm clock]]

[[3.(Look at the photograph)->Look at the picture]]

[[4.(Open the drawer)->Open the drawer]]

[[5.(Go to the bathroom)->Go to the bathroom]]

Look out the window

You are at the 13th (and top) floor of the apartment building.

The sky is covered with gray clouds, its grayness is reflected upon everything you see. People are walking in a hurry, some of them don't have umbrellas on this rainy morning.

There are no green trees; only high, concrete structures.

There isn't any trace of happiness out there.

Look at the alarm clock

Your digital alarm clock shows (text-colour:green)[07:00 AM Mon] with its green LCD lights. This is the exact time you wake up each repeating morning.

And it's always Monday whenever you wake up.

Look at the picture

This photograph shows you with your ex-wife at the beach, when you were on your honeymoon. She has a long black hair, brown eyes and a pretty face. She was the prettiest woman for you when you were together. You both look so happy in this frame, with sincere smiles.

But it's past.

You feel a terrible guilt looking at this picture.

Open the drawer

You open the drawer.

There is only one important item there: Your 9mm pistol. It has a capacity of 17 rounds.

[[1.(Close the drawer)->Waking up]]

[[2.(Pick up the pistol)->Waking up with pistol]] (Creates a new line and you get to have the option of shooting yourself or others throughout the game).

Go to the bathroom

You are in the bathroom.

Looking at the mirror, you see that you need to shave. Your beard grew a few millimeters, bad enough for your work.

If you wish, you can cut your wrists to commit suicide. Because you wake up with an intense self-hate every morning.

[[1.(Shave your beard)->Shave your beard]]

[[2.(Cut your wrists in the bathtub)->Cut your wrists]]

[[3.(Go to the living room)->Living room]]

Living room

You're in the living room now.

There are your Old TV worn sofa in front of it.
Your dispersed suit is on the sofa.

You can either go to work or spend the whole day watching TV (You'll probably get fired if you choose that).

[[1.(Go to work)->Go to work]]

[[2.(Spend the day watching TV)->TV]]

TV

You turn the old television and sit on the sofa in front of it.

The first channel you see airs the news. They're about a war going on a distant part of the planet. You see bombed homes and dead children under the debris. Immigrants are trying to flee on overcrowded boats.

[[1.(Switch to the next channel)->Channel 2]] (keeps going for 3 times)
[[2.(Turn off the TV).->Turn off]]

Demon speech

Now you see something you'd never expected to see on the screen, it's a man in a suit, but his head is a goat skull.

The man (or demon) gazes into your soul..

He asks you: "You're stuck in an infinite loop. Do you remember why this is happening to you?"

[[1.No.->No]]
[[2.Yes. → Yes]] (for both answers the player would be given a different hint and the day resets)

Go to work

You wear your suit and head off for work.

It's a rainy day, but you have lost your umbrella. You get wet till you reach the subway station, it takes about 15 minutes to reach there.

[[Click to continue → Stairs]]

While descending the stairs to the subway station, you pass by two teenagers smoking cigarettes. They are at most 13 years old.

You overhear one of them saying this : "I watch TV to remember".

You never wanted to have kids. They would probably be like those teenagers who began smoking at this early age. You took a sterilization operation a few years ago, but your wife didn't know about it.

[[Click to continue->In the subway]]

You are in the subway station.
Nobody notices you...

[[Wait for the train to arrive → Train]]

After waiting for 13 minutes, you see the approaching lights of the subway in the tunnel.

[[1.(Get aboard)->Aboard]]

[[2.(Jump on the rails)->Jump on the rails]] (DEATH THUS RESETS THE DAY)

Aboard

After the train stops, you get it with the crowd of commuters. And it departs.

After 13 minutes, you arrive at the ugly gray skyscraper that you call "Office building".

At the entrance of your office (at the 13th floor of the skyscraper), you see your boss. He is the man you hate the most. An overweight, bald man with a black mustache.

You always wanted to murder him. But you always controlled your anger somehow. Because once you react in anger, you lose completely lose control of yourself. He stares at you.

[[Go to your cubucle → cubucle]]

You get infront of your old computer, the monitor has a big tube that you hate.

You start working on your shitty duties, you do repetitive things, those that should have been done by an automatic system.

Your only break is looking at the social media (it's actually forbidden in the office, but you found a backdoor).

You see a picture of a friend of yours at the beach. He's with your ex-wife and her new boyfriend.

You had actually blocked your ex and her boyfriend, so that you wouldn't see them once again. But it doesn't work if they are shown in another person's picture.

The couple looks so happy together. She looks happier this time, compared to the time she was with you.

Nothing interesting happens during the rest of the day.

You feel quite sleepy, you won't need sleeping pills now.
